

Microsoft-MBW Skype Call

You've decided which function you're recruiting for, but are you targeting the tech industry? Microsoft doesn't require any technical experience, provides best-in-class functional training across marketing, finance, HR, and ops/supply chain, and offers a strong opportunity to have an impact in a growing industry. On this Skype call, Ross women who joined these functions at Microsoft without tech backgrounds will talk about their experiences. Attend to get a head start on Microsoft before the corporate presentation and to ask all your questions about the opportunity and the recruiting process. We look forward to meeting you virtually before we come to campus for our corporate presentation!
